Felipe Torres-Raposo

Department of Political Science, University College London 36 Gordon Square, Office 207
f.torres-raposo@ucl.ac.uk • ftraposo.github.io • github.com/ftraposo

Academic Positions

2026 – present	Associate Lecturer in Quantitative Methods Department of Political Science, University College London
2023 – 2026	Postdoctoral Research Fellow Department of Government, London School of Economics and Political Science
2022 – 2023	Research Fellow, Development Engagement Lab Department of Political Science, University College London

Education

2023	DPhil in Politics (Passed without corrections), University of Oxford
2018	MSc in Economics, Queen Mary University of London
2014	Master of Public Policy, University of Oxford
2011	Civil Engineering BSc (Distinction), Pontifical Catholic University of Chile Minor in Applied Mathematics

Research

Published / Forthcoming

- Survey Data on Attitudes Towards Foreign Aid & Development with Jennifer Hudson, David Hudson, Soomin Oh, Paolo Morini. Nature – Scientific Data.

Under Review

- Government Audits of Municipal Corruption and Belief Updating: Experimental Evidence with Raymond Duch. Conditional Accepted – Comparative Political Studies.
- Public Support for Foreign Aid: The Role of Development Project Characteristics with Jennifer Hudson, David Hudson, Soomin Oh, Paolo Morini.

Working Papers

- Measuring Corruption using a Bayesian Randomised Item Response Model.
  with Raymond Duch.
- What Makes Corruption Information Compelling? Evidence from Adaptive Experiments.
  with Raymond Duch. [RCT Registry]
- Do Government Audits Reduce Bureaucrats' Rent Extraction? Evidence from a Million Bureaucrats
  with Luis Soto Tamayo.

Work in Progress

- Prosecutors and the Emergence of a Virtuous Anti-Corruption Cycle: Findings from Ecuador and Peru.
  Single-authored.
- Kin in the Corps: Family Ties and Career Trajectories in Brazil's Diplomatic Service, 1961–2010.
  with Gabriel Soyer and Luis Soto Tamayo.
- The Transparency Dividend: A Staggered Synthetic Control Analysis of FOI Laws.
  Single-authored
- The Effects of Patronage on Public Good Provision: A Systematic Review and Meta-Analysis
  with Luis Soto Tamayo.
- Connected and Protected? A Conjoint Experiment on Sanctioning Legitimacy among Local Bureaucrats.
  with Luis Soto Tamayo.
- The Power of Activation: Assessing the Effect of Imagery in Global Poverty Campaigns with Jennifer Hudson, David Hudson, Soomin Oh, Paolo Morini. [EGAP Registry]

Teaching

2026–27	Introduction to Quantitative Methods (Co-convenor), University College London Causal Analysis in Data Science, University College London

	Data Analysis (Co-convenor), University College London Science, Scientific Discovery and Statistics (Co-convenor), University College London
2023–26	Quantitative Analysis for Political Science (PG), LSE
2021–22	Introduction to Quantitative Methods (PG), University College London Research design clinics (PG Workshop), University College London
2020–22	Causal Inference (PG), University of Oxford
2019–23	Formal Models in Political Economy (UG, 2023), King's College London Intermediate Microeconomics (UG, 2020–21), King's College London Advanced Topics in Development Economics (UG, 2020), King's College London Development Economics (UG, 2019), King's College London Introduction to Research Design and Quantitative Methods (UG, 2019), King's College London
2014–16	Summer School on Experimental Methods (PG), Nuffield College
2026	Freely Accessible Courses (Under development): Latin American Politics; Bureaucratic Politics; Political Economy of Development

Software & Resources

DELdata	R package with 87 datasets (246,352 obs., 129,128 respondents) from the Development Engagement Lab. [GitHub]
ML for Soc. Sci.	Machine Learning for the Social Sciences – BART, adaptive experiments, and neural networks.
Causal Inference	Causal Inference – teaching materials from the course taught at Oxford.
Corruption DB	Corruption Database – papers on governance, patronage, clientelism, and vote-buying in top journals.

Awards & Grants

2026	British Academy/Leverhulme Small Research Grants, The British Academy
2023	Departmental Research Grant, Department of Political Science, UCL
2022	Bank of Portugal Best Paper Prize, The Lisbon Meeting on Economics and Political Science
2021	Best Paper Award, Public Policy Research Network
2020–21	FONDECYT 2020 (Co-PI), CONICYT, Chile
2020	Evidence Policy-Making Grant (Co-PI), University of Oxford
2018–22	Becas Chile – Fully-Funded PhD Scholarship, CONICYT, Chile
2016	Institutional Skills Development Grant (£59,000) (Co-PI), British Council
2013–14	Becas Chile – Fully-Funded Postgraduate Scholarship, CONICYT, Chile

Selected Conferences

2026	PSPE Work in Progress Seminar, Department of Government, LSE, December
	JLPRC Seminar Series, Junior Law and Politics Research Community, November
	Madrid Empirical Social Sciences, IE University, October
	Money in Politics, Copenhagen Business School, June
	London Public Administration Colloquium, King's College London, May PSA Conference, Public Policy & Administration panel, April
	PSPE Work in Progress Seminar, Department of Government, LSE, February
2025	European Political Science Annual Conference, June
	Society for Political Methodology Annual Conference, Europe, April
	PSPE Work in Progress Seminar, Department of Government, LSE, February
2024	Workshop on Comparative Politics in Latin America, Nuffield College, May
	Talking to Machines, HEC University of Lausanne, March

Academic Service

Peer Review

- Comparative Political Studies (2026); Political Science Research and Methods (2024, 2025); The Journal of Politics (2025); Journal of Public Policy (2024)

Workshop Organisation

- Workshop on Bureaucratic Politics – April (2027) (Forthcoming)
- LSE Early Career Workshop in Political Economy and Political Science – Convenor (2026 & 2027)
- Workshop on Information and Electoral Accountability – Convenor (2018, 2019)
- International Meeting on Experimental and Behavioural Science – Convenor (2016, 2017)

Selected Training

2026	Computational Text Analysis and Large Language Models, LSE
2025	Large Language Models, Nuffield College, Oxford (Sep); DPIR, Oxford (Apr)
	Modern Difference-in-Differences and Synthetic Control, CUNEF University, Madrid (May) Synthetic Control Methods, Baylor University (May) Retrieving and Generating Data using LLMs in Python, Imperial College (May)
	Introduction to Meta-analysis, University College London (Mar)
	Reinforcement Learning, LSE, Department of Statistics (Spring)
2024	Political Participation and Representation in Latin America, LSE (Spring)
2023	Machine Learning for Social Science, LSE, Department of Methodology (Spring)

Skills

Coding	R (Advanced), Python (Intermediate), Git/GitHub (Intermediate)
Languages	Spanish (Native), English (Proficient), Italian (Upper Intermediate), German (Elementary)

Previous Employments

2015–17	Research Officer, Nuffield Centre for Experimental Social Sciences, Nuffield College, Oxford
2010–12	Senior Research Analyst (2011–12) / Research Analyst (2010), Chilean Ministry of Housing Policy

References

Professor Raymond Duch
Senior Research Fellow
Nuffield College
University of Oxford
raymond.duch@nuffield.ox.ac.uk

Professor Stephane Wolton
Professor
Department of Government
LSE
S.Wolton@lse.ac.uk

Professor Jennifer Hudson
Professor and Vice-President
Department of Political Science
Southern Methodist University
jahudson@smu.edu

Dr Nelson Ruiz
Associate Professor
Department of Government
University of Essex
nelson.ruiz@essex.ac.uk